ROPE is thrilled to return the Pecos Wilderness of Northeast New Mexico! This region holds special meaning to our director for its stunning views and fabulous weather. The mountains offer a cool escape from the growing spring heat alongside rewarding challenges and picturesque vistas.

Trail itineraries will not be available until late April as the program follows weather and snow reports. With much of the trail options above 7,000 feet and the peak destinations at 10,000 feet, high elevation and snow are two features that the trip and participants should prepare for. Mountain trekking requires good fitness alongside strong mental fortitude to work past the physical exertion.

Take a peek at map of New Mexico following the Skyline Trail, Truchas Peak, Pecos Baldy and the surrounding area. This is green mountain paradise rising away from the New Mexican desert.

Mountain weather can change unpredictably, but in general we can expect days in the mid 60’s and nights in the mid 30’s. Packing for cool weather will increase participant comfort and enjoyment out on trail even if temperatures are above average.

Participants are expected to:
- Be in good physical and mental health and possess the physical strength to manage challenges including: carrying a 35lb backpack, hike for 9-11 miles over rugged terrain, maintain composure during challenges.
- This trip will frequently be traveling above 10,000 feet in elevation which can be challenging for even athletic individuals.
- Learn and practice exemplary Leave No Trace philosophy and methods. Hikers must carry out all trash – ROPE will help educate! 😊
- Follow directions where the group takes precautionary action to minimize risk.
- Provide essential footwear and clothing that meets the demands of this trip. Hiking boots/shoes are required. Sneakers and running shoes will not be permitted as hiking footwear.
