The Armand Bayou Nature Center is the hub for a wildlife preserve featuring prairie wetlands, forest, and marsh habitats. In addition to trails to hike and explore, the center features a variety of educational exhibits. ROPE will start and end with a leisurely bike trip to the center along local bike path. The path is mix of dirt and gravel but little to no elevation change – participants need to provide their bike suitable for such terrain. Helmets are required, and are available from ROPE if a personal one is not available.
ROPE will cover transportation to the trailhead, lunch, and entrance fees to the nature center. Participants are strongly encouraged to eat breakfast before meeting for the trip.
Packing List:

Required:
• Personal Bike
• Helmet (available from ROPE if needed)
• Light jacket for inclement weather
